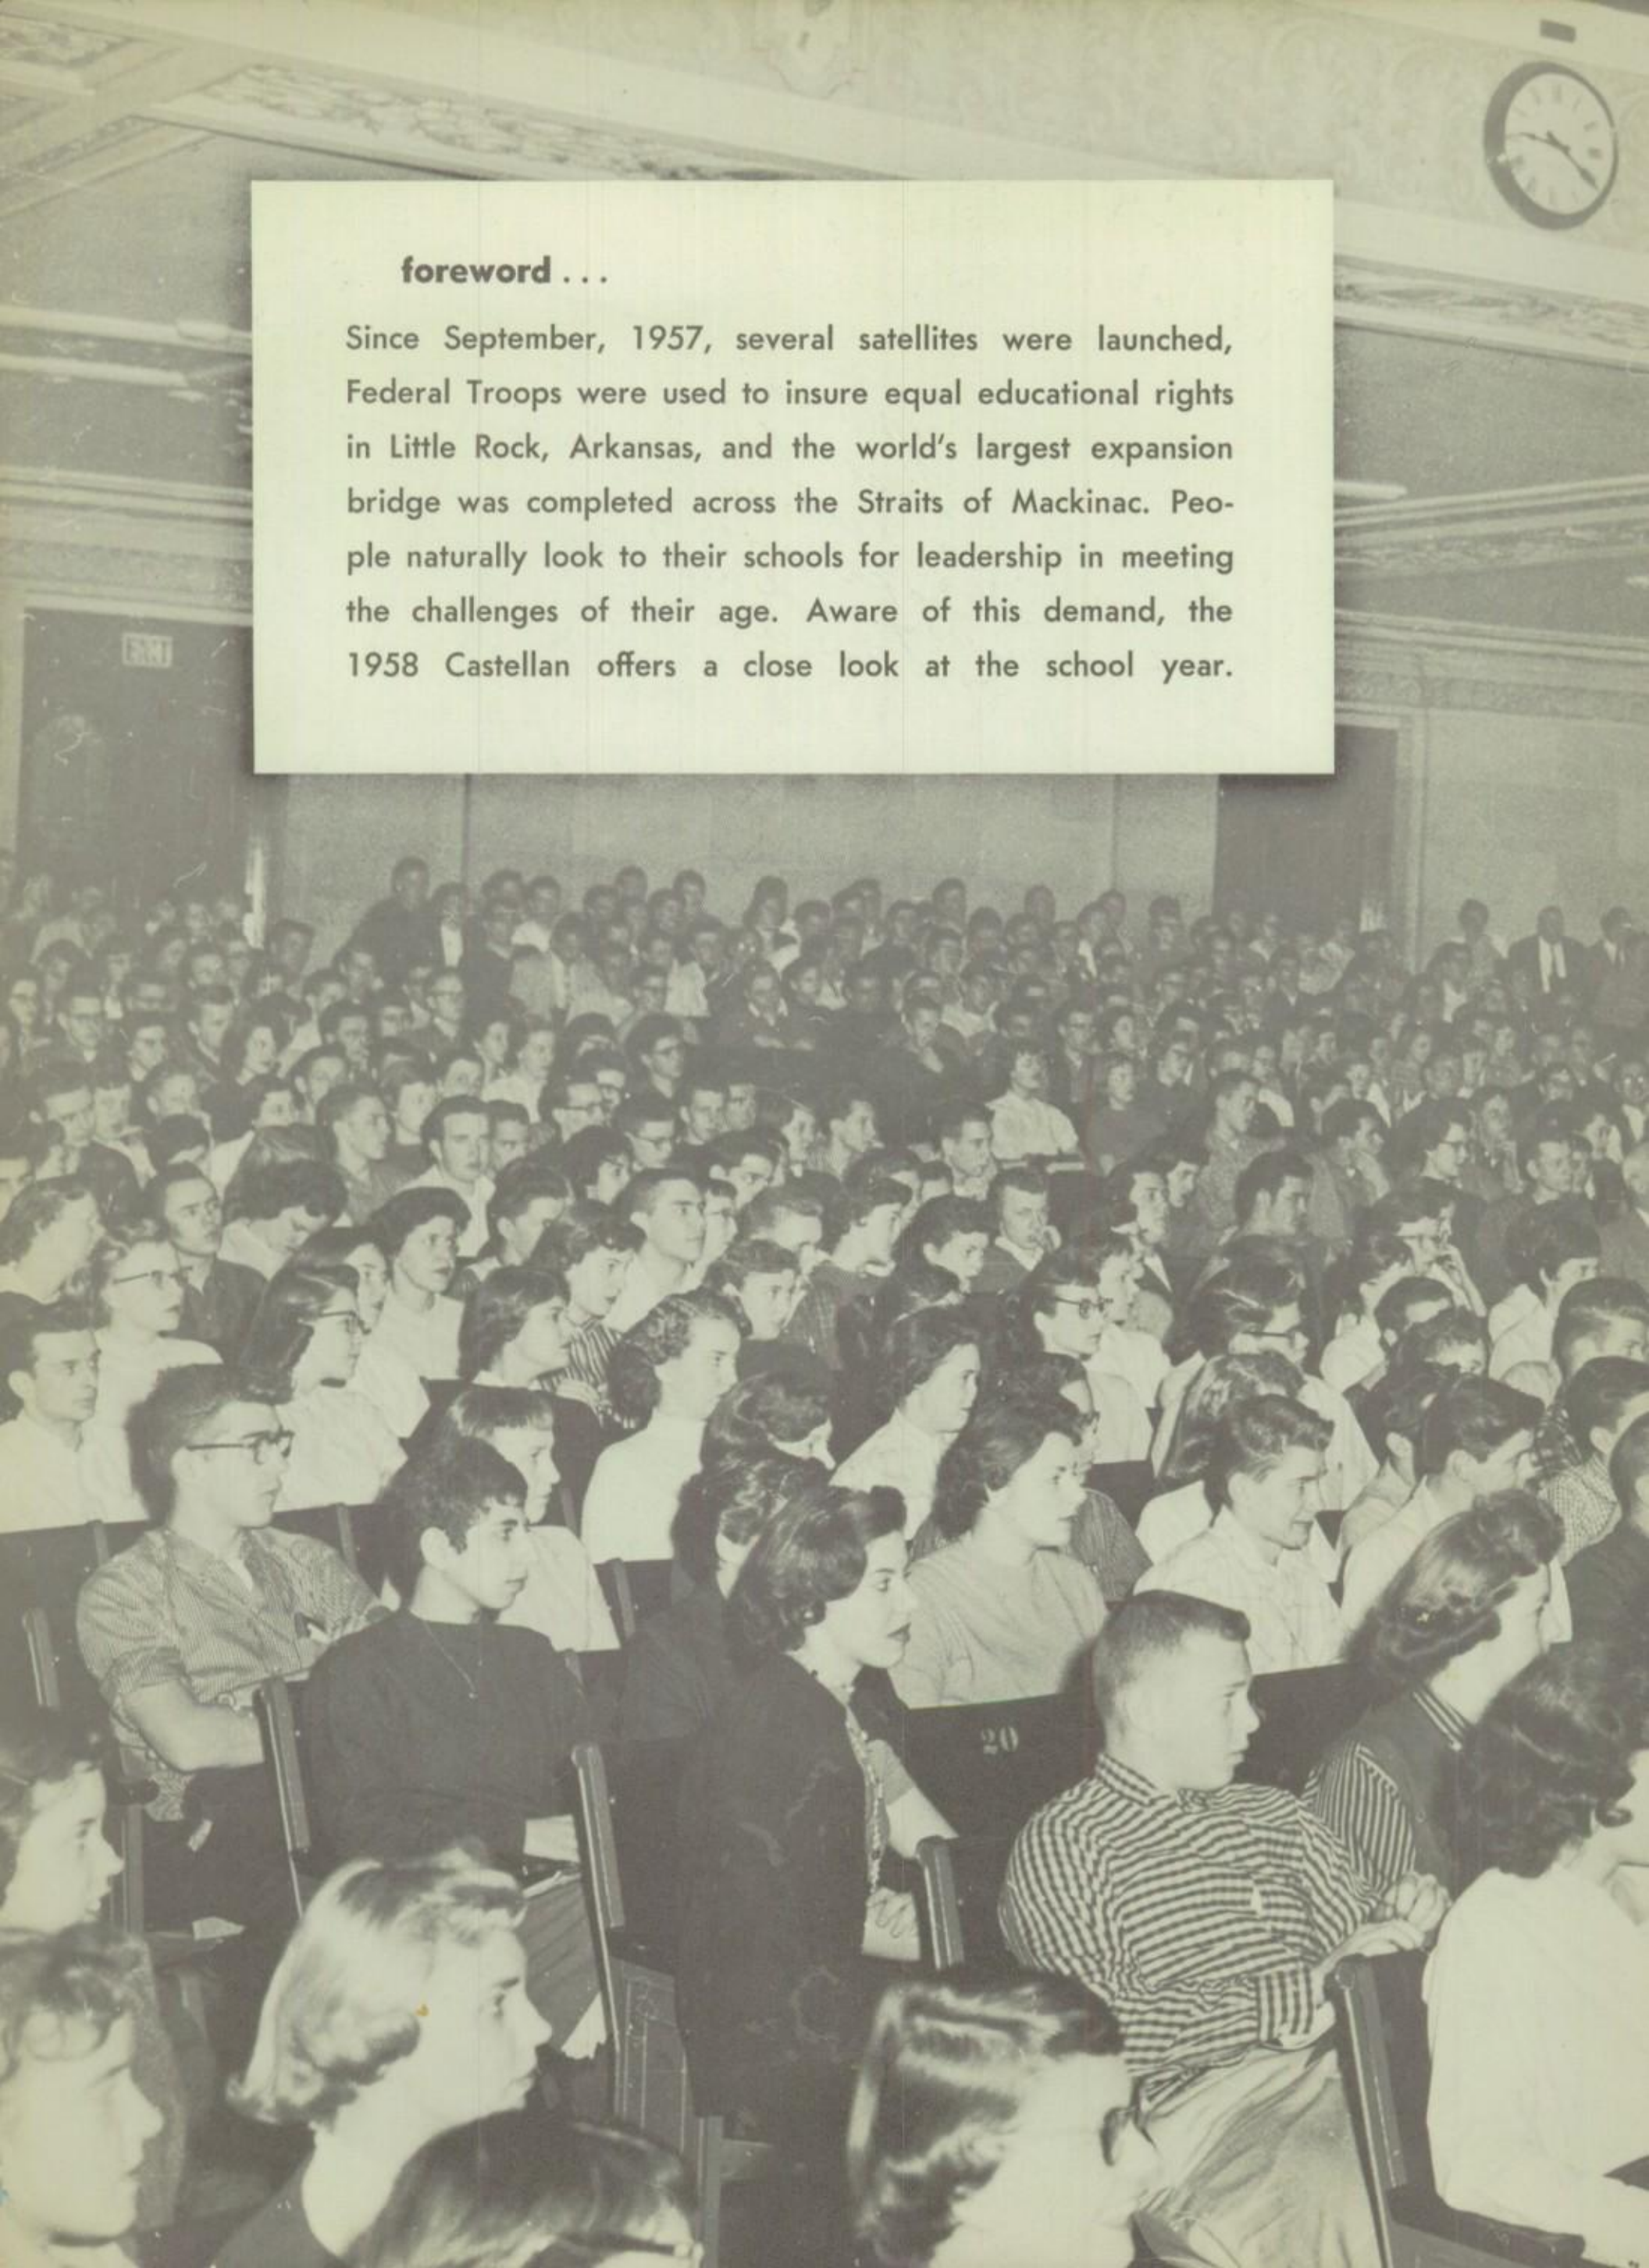
Cooley Castellan

COOLEY HIGH SCHOOL
15055 HUBBELL AVENUE
DETROIT, MICHIGAN



foreword . . .

Since September, 1957, several satellites were launched, Federal Troops were used to insure equal educational rights in Little Rock, Arkansas, and the world's largest expansion bridge was completed across the Straits of Mackinac. People naturally look to their schools for leadership in meeting the challenges of their age. Aware of this demand, the 1958 Castellan offers a close look at the school year.

Marian,
I don't know what gave voice to do with but I'm sure glad it did. Lunch table at Cooley will be a ball. I can only kidding. Lots of luck to you this semester.

Cooley Gets a Crew Cut

The FACULTY at Cooley has counseled and taught over three-thousand students this year. By challenging the pupils to greater goals, and, most important, setting an example that is overshadowed only by that of a parent, Cooley's faculty has demonstrated its interest and dedication to American youth. The faculty is presented on youth's behalf.

Wisdom Promotes the Long View

Lawren Buck

For thirty years, the Cooley High School community, numbering thousands of parents and 3,400 students this year alone, have known and respected the experienced leadership of Principal Owen A. Emmons.

To parents and students alike who were disappointed when the undefeated Cooley football team was not chosen to play in the city-championship game, Mr. Emmons counseled that to take disappointment "with your head high" is the mark of a real champion. Cooley did.

When mounting national publicity was focused on the less than one per cent of problem American youth, Mr. Emmons urged the faculty to keep their sense of proportion, to remember the needs of all children. Cooley did.

Besides Mr. Emmons, Assistant Principals Helen Delbridge and C. H. Hiller serve Cooley youth in a hundred ways, from organizing senior class activities to offering advice in a moment of decision.

The counselors, only eight in number, know their students (425 on the average) remarkably well—well enough to individualize a program, to make out detailed job and college recommendations, and to convince the lagging student to do his best. From competent leadership, everyone derives something of value.

Teachers Promote Higher Learning

At the Prom: Acting as chaperones Meta Reynolds, Dorothy Post, Allison Kunkel, and Neil Cameron chat in the lobby.

In this day of modern education, it is the teachers who give students the background which will enable them to grow. Through the imparting of valuable learning and keen skills of observation and thinking, teachers seek to heighten the pupil's personal development and competence. Alive in good humor, and rich in genuine friendliness, Cooley's teachers are the guides for tomorrow.

In the school lobby: Harvey Brand inspects a science showcase.

In a drafting class: John Mullica discusses a drawing with Fielding Smith as Dennis Raimi kibitzes.

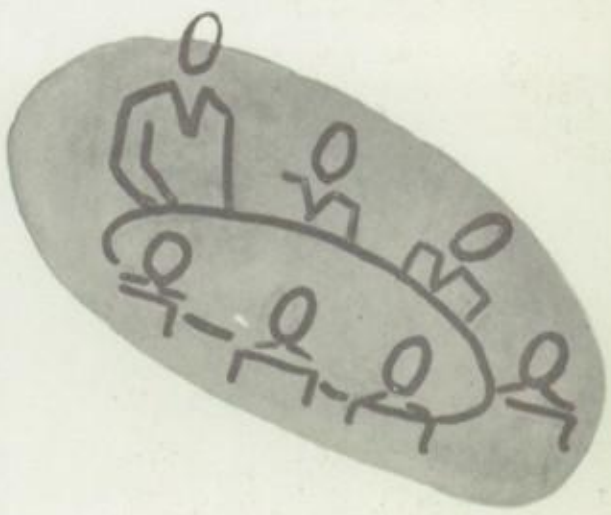
In a vocal room: William Koerper directs the Choir in the complicated "A Jubilant Song."

In a chemistry lab: Lloyd Gordon helps Elaine Blandino with a tedious experiment.

Before the 12-B play: Joy Lunsford questions William Hollingsworth about her role in "Full House."

At the N.H.S. Christmas tea: Dorothy Roehm helps former assistant principal, Mary Farnsworth, fill a punch bowl.

In the teachers' lunchroom: Amelia Henderson and Patricia LaHood, Leonard Baruch and Marvin Greene, and Charles Hohner and Henry Maloney converse during their lunch period.



SENIORS have reached the summit of their high school experiences; yet, they realize that the lessons learned at Cooley are merely preparation for the future. These young men and women are ready to take their places in the services, colleges, and businesses of our country. Here are the Seniors as they take their place in the graduation line.

School Is Not the End

But Only the Beginning of an Education

January Graduates

12A Officers

T. Morgan (Veep), B. Bishop (Treas.), D. Eaton (Pres.), J. Pelto (Sec.)

12B Officers

C. Pattison (Sec.), S. Patch (Veep), B. McRae (Pres.), D. Shaheen (Treas.)

Four years of hard work, studying, and fun have prepared the January graduating class to look ahead confidently to the future. Along with a unique 12-A Day program, the graduates gave the school a flag and made a contribution to the organ fund. They can be proud of Cooley and the many memories of achievements they left behind.

Action Is the Proper Fruit of Knowledge

The June graduating class leaves Cooley, hoping to meet the challenge of tomorrow. Proving that size is no detriment to fun, the class enjoyed many activities like the 12-B skating party, the breakfast, and the countless open houses. By working as a unit, rather than individuals, the class accomplished much at Cooley, and they go forward with dreams of contributing much to American life.

Three Teachers Graduate with Students

As many students leave Cooley for new experiences and knowledge, Miss Marian Crosby, home economics teacher; Mrs. Gladys Houge, commercial teacher; and Ralph Twitchell retire into an also new life. Miss Crosby can recall a day in 1927 when she and Mr. Emmons first officially opened Cooley's doors. In 28 years of service Mrs. Houge has placed many of her commercial students in jobs. When Mr. Twitchell announced his retirement after thirty years of teaching at Cooley, he was given a trophy by his "Trig." class. The letter accompanying the award read, "All of us have had you as a teacher, and we feel that the knowledge we gained in your classes invaluable. Your friendly mannerism and down-to-earth way of teaching made every day in class a worthwhile one. Therefore, we would like to present to you this Most Valuable Teacher Award."

Marian Crosby

Ralph Twitchell

Gladys Houge

ACTIVITIES at Cooley reflect the high level of the student's concerns. In place of social organizations, there are a vast variety of service and cultural clubs. These students are interested in improving their society and in developing their intellectual capacities through a club.

Staffs Co-operate on Publications

As every year passes, the challenge of creating a truly superior newspaper and yearbook that will meet the needs of the student body becomes ever greater. Everyone on the Cardinal and Castellan staffs, from the advisors and editors to the cub reporters and typists, has met this challenge by producing school publications that have been recognized as award winning in their class by journalism experts.

Fellowship Is Aim of Y Groups

Serving the school and other groups in numerous ways are Cooley's Hi-Y and Y-Teen organizations, which have the largest total membership of all the clubs. The kindness toward a mental patient, the participation in the Y-Teen Bazaar, and the book drive for veterans helped the Y groups in achieving their goal of helping others. Each Easter and Thanksgiving, the Y-Teens present a religious service for the students in order that they appreciate fully the significance of the holiday.

Besides service projects, the Y groups plan dances, hayrides, and other social functions. Club meetings encourage everyone to take part in these activities . . . (Perhaps the best meetings are the joint meetings with the auctions, games, and fellowship) . . .

Y-Teen Cabinet

Stanich, E. Koski, M. Baker. Row 3: I. Gotberg, J. Van Dusen, J. Copeland, G. Hess, S. Park, J. Henry, J. Smith.

Cooley's Y-Teen Cabinet and newly organized Hi-Y Council are formed of leaders from the various Y groups in the school. These two organizations work to promote better understanding and co-operation between the separate Y-Teen and Hi-Y clubs. Through the efforts of the cabinet and the council, the individual groups function more smoothly and are quicker to realize their purposes.

SCIENCE CLUBS

Cooley's answers to the criticism that students of today avoid the more difficult subjects are the numerous clubs whose members strive to gain technical knowledge. It is not unusual to enter a meeting and hear a discussion of advanced calculus or inter-ballistic missiles. These clubs are proving that youth is motivated by the desire to learn in order to lead richer and fuller lives.

Vocal Chords on a High Note

Participating in the wide range of activities offered by the Music Department, nearly one third of the student body helps to carry on the Cooley tradition of making beautiful music. Although various performances for other civic clubs are frequent, the annual Christmas, Spring, and Band concerts are highlights of the school year and have gained a reputation for their quality and unusual features. Cooley congratulates Miss Doris Lenz, the new head of the Music Department on her fine directing of the concerts.

Sitting in the auditorium Miss Doris Lenz, department head; and music teachers, Fred Shafe, William Koerper, and Milton Aptekar evaluate students as they audition for 12-B Play music solos.

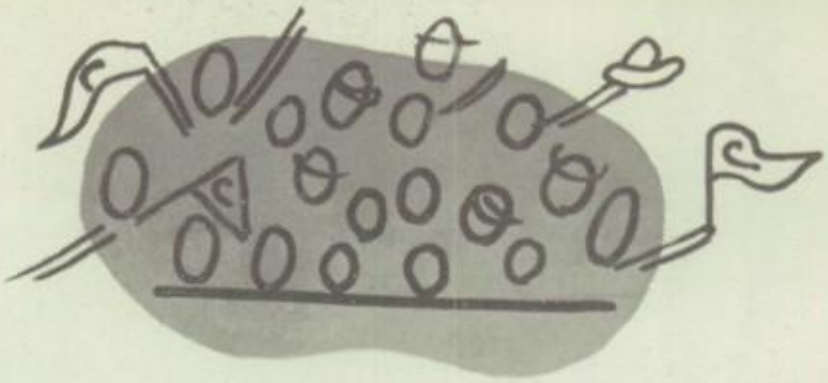
Traditionally Cooley young people carry what they learn in the classroom into their extra-curricular activities. There is no better example of this practice than the music students. They stay late to rehearse concerts, organize bands to make spending money, and sing in vocal groups to entertain at school functions. Applying knowledge is an important step in the development of people who will meet the challenges of our changing world.



SPORTS are important at Cooley. However, the attitudes of the spectator in the stand and player after the game in the locker room have proved that it is not the championship football tucked under the arm that counts. It is what is carried away from the game that really matters—the spirit and the sportsmanship which are developed through victory and defeat. This year, under trying conditions, Cooley definitely proved its championship qualities on the field and in the locker room.

Mackenzie Slaughter Keeps Cards on Top in Title Race

By ALAN STEGER

Defying recent daily newspaper predictions, Cooley rolled on towards the Metro League West Side title by smothering Mackenzie, 40-0, on Friday, November 1, at Wyoming Field.

It was a crushing team vi for the Cards as six different ers shared in the scoring. In first quarter Chuck Ebinger maxed a 25-yard drive by crash over from the six-yard line. Ea the second quarter Coo bed 65 yards, the last 3 later

The 1957 Varsity Football Team showed a spirit and determination to win which was inspired by the enthusiasm of Coach Parmentier and the support of classmates. Throughout the conflict over the city championship, they exhibited excellent sportsmanship and accepted the decision like champions by congratulating Redford on its victory and supporting the Westside team at Briggs Stadium. Nevertheless, Cooley's varsity team remained the only undefeated football team in the city.

Highlighting the basketball season was the victory by Cooley's hoopsters over traditional rival Redford, which enabled the "Little Red Jug" to remain at Cooley. Even though this year's record was rather unimpressive, the experience gained by some of the juniors should form a strong foundation for an improved squad next year.

Coach Brownlee wishes the team good luck before a game.

Last Year

For the second consecutive season, the Cardinal nine climaxed the Cooley sports year by capturing the City Baseball Championship.

Besides showing the great team spirit necessary to stay undefeated in league games, the Card lineup boasted numerous individual stars, five of whom were named to the all-city team. The expert guidance of Coach Abe Eliowitz is not only shown in the team's performance, but, also, in the fact that Cooley's top pitcher went on to hurl in the major leagues.

UNDERCLASSMEN have accepted the responsibility of preparing for the future. A large percentage of Cooley students are involved in "getting all they can" out of courses like solid geometry, advanced language studies, physics, journalism, and transcription, all electives to the prescribed plan of study. The majority of the school population discusses, practices, studies, writes, and questions for the future in the classroom.

WAY TO BETTER LIVING

Learning provides a key to the spiritual and material riches of the world. Through learning, science and industry have combined to bring new convenience, new benefits and a new measure of leisure into our lives.

In this evolution electricity has played a leading part.

In the years to come you will live still better electrically for greater things are in store. But it will take ever higher standards of learning to win them.

Good luck to you in helping to make the dreams of today the realities of tomorrow.

what's next?

It's a pretty important decision, young lady—choosing the right job. You'll want to work in pleasant surroundings—in light and airy offices with modern equipment.

And now that you're out of school, you'll expect to meet new friends where you work—young people you'll like and with whom you can enjoy your leisure time. (And how about a vacation with pay?)

Then there's the matter of a paycheck—it'll be nice to count on a steady income, a salary that's good from the start and keeps getting better with regular increases.

There's a job like this waiting for you at the telephone company!

You might want to be a telephone operator or a teller, a cashier or a clerk—those are just some of the many interesting jobs Michigan Bell has for bright young high school graduates like yourself. And there's a chance to advance in all of them.

You don't need experience to get a telephone job, and you'll earn a good salary, even while you're learning.

What next? Why not visit Michigan Bell's Employment Office? We'll be looking for you!

This is Cooley High School—youth,
now watching a tense game,
soon studying for a crucial test,
and in the future taking their places
in the adult world.

Good Luck,

To a real sweet Girl.
I wish you a lot of luck in French and all of your other subjects
for the next three years or so. I also hope you won't spend long hours on your home work.
